Protecht.
Your Sexual Health, Your Terms.

PRESS KIT

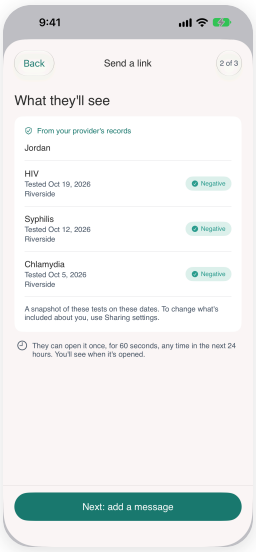

protecht.health · Updated November 16, 2026

NEW IN PROTECHT 2.6: SEND A LINK AND THE GUIDE TAB

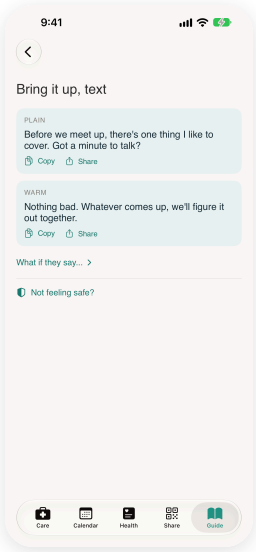

Protecht Health is an iPhone app for sharing sexual health results that can't be edited. The app brings in STI and HIV test results and vaccination records from a person's healthcare provider through Apple Health, keeps them encrypted on the phone, and lets that person show a partner for 60 seconds, in person or by a link that opens once. Protecht's servers don't store your test results, and sharing HIV status in the app is always free. Founded in 2025 by David Leder, Protecht Health is independent, self-funded, and based in San Jose, California.

KEY FACTS

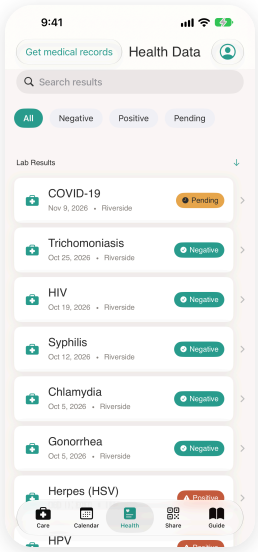

- Founded 2025 by David Leder; independent and self-funded, San Jose, CA
- iPhone only, iOS 18.6 or later, rated 18+; results for 10 STIs (incl. HIV) plus COVID-19, and vaccination records
- Read-only 60-second view, no app needed to receive; receiving and sharing HIV status are always free
- Results encrypted on the phone (AES-256-GCM); links split the key between the link and our server
- Launched on the App Store June 29, 2026; Protecht 2.6 released November 16, 2026
- Share in person with a QR code, or Send a link that opens once, any time in the next 24 hours
- The free Guide tab has words for bringing up testing and asking for a partner's results
- Independent security review completed before launch; no sale of user data, no ads

Send a link

Guide tab

Your results

> "I built Protecht because most people still share a test result with a screenshot or their word, and neither one gives the other person anything they can trust."
>
> David Leder, Founder, Protecht Health

MEDIA CONTACT

David Leder, Founder, Protecht Health

press@protecht.health · San Jose, California

Reply within one business day

protecht.health